NATURAL BLUE FOOD COLOURING

If you'd like a natural blue food colouring recipe, we are grateful to a supporter who shared this tip using red cabbage!

To make a blue food dye, slice up red cabbage leaves and boil for 10-15 minutes.

Strain out the cabbage, reduce the liquid until it is thick and syrupy (the cooking liquid from a whole cabbage will reduce to about a quarter of a cup).

Add just the tiniest pinch of baking soda (you really have to go slowly here, or you can turn the whole batch green).

Keep adding baking soda in very small amounts until the colour just turns blue. It is important to add only enough baking soda not only for the colour, but for the flavour.

Now you have a blue dye! Use it with a light touch to add blue to icings, cake batters and cookies. Remember that the colour can still change! If you add it to an acidic food, it will go right back to purple.

BLACKBERRY COOKIES (NATURALLY BLUE!)

Ingredients

3/4 cup	100g frozen or fresh blackberries
1/3 cup	75g butter, softened
1/2 cup	100g granulated sugar
2 teaspoons	vanilla extract
1 1/3 cups	185g all-purpose flour (plain flour)
1/2 tsp	baking soda
1/8 tsp	salt
1/2 cup	70g chocolate chips

Preparation

1. Preheat the oven to 350°F/180°C. Line a cookie sheet with baking paper or a silpat.
2. Thaw the frozen blackberries, either in a pan on the stove or in the microwave, then puree with a hand held immersion blender. Set aside to cool. You should have ½ cup of blackberry puree.
3. In a medium bowl, cream the butter and sugar with an electric mixer until light and fluffy. Add the cooled blackberry puree and vanilla and beat well.
4. In a small bowl, whisk together the flour, baking soda, and salt, then add to the blackberry mixture and stir by hand to combine. Fold in the chocolate chips (reserving ¼ of them to add to the cookies after baking).
5. The dough will be very soft, so cover the dough and chill in the fridge for at least 30 minutes. This also changes the colour of blue - otherwise it will remain a dark blue even purple
6. Roll tablespoonfuls of the dough into balls, place them onto the cookie sheet and press down slightly.
7. Bake the cookies for 8-10 minutes or until the edges are set. Cool on the tray for a few minutes, then press the remaining chocolate chips onto the cookies. Transfer to a cooling rack to cool completely.

BLUEBERRY PROFITEROLES

The recipe describes steps for making choux pastry for the profiteroles, craquelin (the blue crunchy outer coating on the profiteroles) and two fillings – a blue pastry cream and blueberry compote.

Makes 20-24

Ingredients

Craquelin (crunchy dough)

56 g	unsalted butter (room temperature)
67 g	brown sugar
63 g	plain flour
135 g	plain flour (sifted)
115 g	unsalted butter
250 ml	water
1 1/2 tsp	caster sugar
1/4 tsp	salt
4	large eggs (room temperature), beaten with 1/2 tsp vanilla extract
	Blue food colouring (gel or powder)
	Choux pastry for profiteroles

Pastry cream

300	ml milk
75 g	caster sugar
28 g	cornflour (cornstarch)
2	eggs
30 g	unsalted butter (cold)
1/2 teaspoon	vanilla
200 g	thickened cream
	Pinch of salt
	Blue food colouring (gel or powder)

Blueberry compote

170 g	blueberries
50 g	caster sugar
8 g	cornflour (cornstarch)
	Zest and juice of 1 lemon

Notes:

- Instead of the pastry cream and compote, you can add other fillings such as whipped cream, chocolate ganache, or custard. Instead of piping the fillings, you can slice the profiteroles in half, spoon the filling inside.
- Profiteroles can also be made without the craquelin.
- Other decorations could include sprinkling with icing sugar or dipping profiteroles into melted white chocolate (with added blue colouring of course!)

Preparation

Craquelin

1. In a medium bowl, add the butter and sugar together and mix well.
2. Add in the flour and roughly mix to combine.
3. Transfer to a smooth surface and use your hands to smooth out the paste. Add in the food colouring to the desired colour (for example, 4-5 drops of blue gel) and continue kneading the dough (using some food-safe gloves would be handy for this step).
4. Put the dough on a piece of cling wrap and cover with another piece on top. Roll out the dough flat (about 0.5mm) and refrigerate.
5. Profiteroles (choux buns)
6. In a medium pot, add in salt, water and sugar and heat over a medium heat. Once the sugar and salt has dissolved, add in butter and bring to boil.
7. Turn off heat and immediately add in sifted flour. Stir quickly with a wooden spoon.
8. Return the pot to a medium heat and continue stirring until the mixture forms a ball paste. The base of the pot should have a thin layer of dough. Remove from heat.
9. Cool the dough for 10 – 15 mins before adding the eggs. The dough should be at around body temperature to avoid scrambling the eggs. Gradually add in the beaten eggs and vanilla in 3 batches, mixing well between each addition. Continue mixing until a smooth and glossy paste is formed.
10. Transfer the paste into a piping bag and pipe the paste into a lined cupcake tray – fill each cupcake holder about 2/3 full. Alternatively, if you do not want to use cupcake holders, pipe the paste into 2-inch rounds onto a baking tray lined with a baking sheet – with each round spaced about 1-inch apart. You may also use a spoon to measure out the paste if you do not have a piping bag.
11. Take out the chilled craquelin and use a small round cookie cutter (1-2 inch diameter) to stamp out rounds. Place each round on top of the piped choux pastry.
12. Bake at 200°C for 20 mins until puffy and golden brown. Remove from baking tray and cool on a wire rack.

Pastry cream

13. In a small-medium pot, add 90% of the milk (i.e. 270 ml) with half the amount of sugar. Heat the mixture without boiling it. Remove from heat.
14. In a medium bowl, whisk the remaining milk, cornstarch and food colouring (e.g. 1-2 drops of blue gel). Add the remaining sugar, eggs and salt and continue mixing until thick and creamy. Whisk the hot milk into the egg mixture.
15. Transfer the heated mixture back to the pot and return the pot to the stove and whisk constantly over medium-high heat until it bubbles and thickens, about 1-2 minutes.
16. Remove from heat, pour contents back into the bowl and stir in the vanilla extract and butter. Cover with cling film and chill the cream (about 30 min in the fridge).
17. When the pastry cream has cooled completely, stir in 40 g of cold thickened cream to loosen the mixture.
18. Whip remaining cold thickened cream to soft peaks and fold into the chilled pastry cream until thoroughly combined. Keep chilled until ready to use.

Blueberry compote

19. In a small bowl, whisk the lemon juice and cornstarch to create a slurry.
20. In a small to medium pot, add in the blueberries, sugar, lemon zest and the lemon juice-cornstarch mixture. Heat over medium-high heat until the mixture is thickened.
21. Remove from heat. Use a spoon or a stick blender to break apart the blueberries. Strain the mixture to remove the seeds. Keep chilled until ready to use.

Assembling the profiteroles

22. Transfer each of the pastry cream and blueberry compote into separate piping bags.
23. Cut a small hole in the top of the cooled profiteroles if you have used cupcake liners, or at the bottom of each profiterole if they were baked on a baking tray.
24. Pipe the pastry cream into each profiterole, and then pipe in the blueberry compote.
25. Decorate with blueberries or additional cream.
